He said that on the election of Ma Cieveland the new administration made a vigorous examination of the hooks lu order to hunt up proof of Republican evil doing and corruption, which they claimed had been accumulating, during twenty-five years of partisan misrule. The apeaker said that he held at that time position in the internal revenue department, which made the threatened investigation one of special interest to blmseif. But the livestigation failed to reveal any criminality on the part of the several licpublican administrations. This was a fact of proud. He did not charge the Cieveand administration with corruption.

Invention of the Microscope.

The invention of the compound lenses placed one above the other naturally soou fellowed the invention of the telescope, The almpie micro-scope was very early known, a convex lens of rock crystal having been found in the ruins of Ninevels. The idea of the more perfect form of this instrument is said to tinve occurred to liar Zansz, or to his son Zactinrias, ape tacio-makers in Hollmid, about 1990. It is very probable, however, that the same idea was suggested, either accidentally or by way of experiment to others. Gallico, for instance, the great Itulian astronomer. It is said, had, before 1610, directed a tube litted with glasses to the ebservation of lued by the examining heard of its stleman, with sace white heir and small, near objects. Lucy flooper Calls the Latest Navelile Exceedingly Pratty. Coined money, as you know, is a livery ancient invention. There may have been a gidden age when gold was altogether unknown, and peeple psid with course with coins. When with cows, not with coins. When are exceedingly pretty. Binck is a precious metals, gold, sliver, copper precions metals, goid, sliver, copper or iron legan to be used for payment, they were at first simply weighed. Even we still speak of a pound instead of a severeign. The next step was to the wide brim, are or namented with a bind of lace-work insertion, or rather band of lace-work insertion, or rather than the fabric. One net weight and value on each piece. This was done in Assyrin and liubylonia, where we find shekels or pounds of gold and sliver. The asser pounds This was done in Assyrin and liuby-lenia, where we find shekels er pounds of gobl and sliver. The commerce of the Eastern antiens was carried on the Eastern antiens was carried on the Eastern until ns was carried of for contarios by means of these weights of metal. It was the Greeks, the Greeks of Phoceen in Ioniu, who, in the seventh century, R.C., who, in the seventh century, R.C., who, in the library of coining first conceived the iden of coining and with loops of mess-green velvet, money, that is of stamping eu each plece their city arms, the phoca or seal, thas giving the warranty of their white liles, with a long sear sed, thus giving the warranty of their state for the right weight and value of these pieces. From Phocae this art of coining spread rupidly to the other Greek towns of Asia Aliner, and was thence transplanted to Ægina, the Peleponnesas, Athens, and the Greek coinnies in Africa and the Greek coinnies in Africa and the Italy. The A delicious hat of the sume shape was la moss-green English straw, vniled entirely in gnuze of the same color and having a wrenth of dark purple violets aderning the crown. lints are no longor turaed up at the sides, but directly at the back. The Directoire shape sometimes with a slight peak in the center of the edge of the brim, is still very popular. The little cepote bon-nots are exceedingly pretty, especially those made of flowers. One of these vas composed of a hrim in lilles of the valies with a very small cluster of oro-cuses set in front, while the crown was la clover leaves. Others, less poetical, hat more durable, are all in geld passementerle, or else in crape of the palest shades, lutermixed with white lace and gold cords. The toque luts are and gold cords.
